CARDINAL

66

The Senior
Class of 1966
Presents to the Student Body
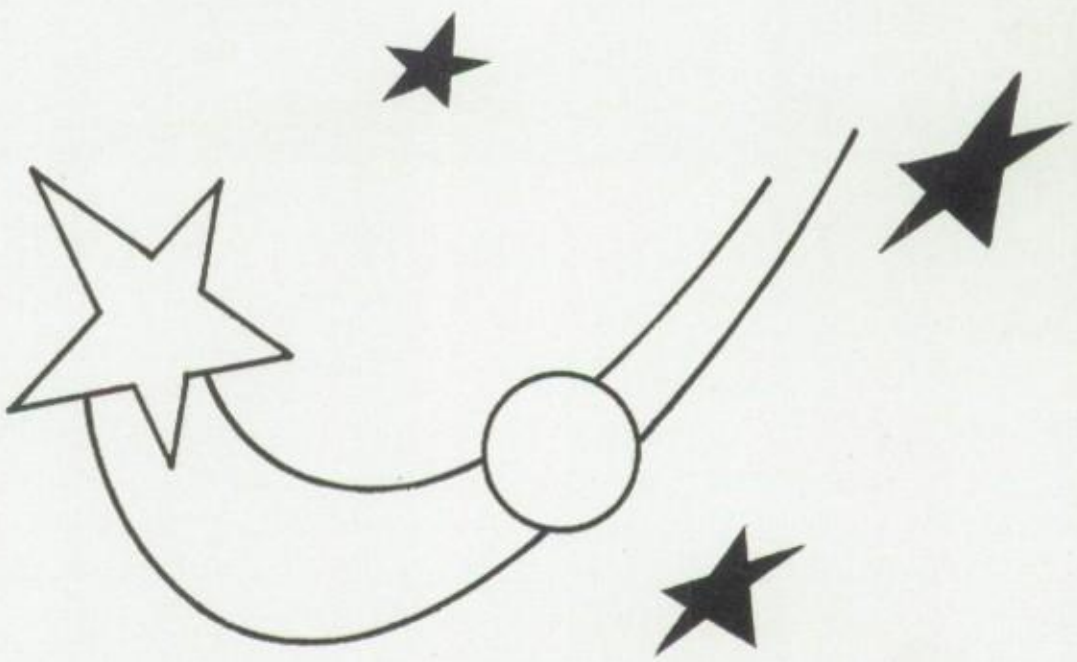
Its 1966

Cardinal Yearbook



The Salute We Dedicate to You

For your appreciation of our limitations and failings as well as our inspirations and triumphs; For your patient endurance of our foolish whims and your ready praise for our worthier endeavors; And for your willing loan of priceless experience--------- We the Senior Class of 1966 proudly and respectfully dedicate to Mr. Leland Reimann the "CARDINAL YEARBOOK".

To the Student Body

The fine thing about a high school annual is that it keeps alive the personal contacts and more or less intimate friendships that are formed during the years of high school life. To be asked to write in one's Cardinal is a compliment; to have the opportunity to write in every-one's Cardinal is a privilege few enjoy.

Perhaps by doing so, I can keep in personal touch with many whom I have not had the opportunity to know as I wish I could know them. Perhaps I can thus express to each the gratification I feel over the successful year we all have had working together. It may be that this little message of good cheer and good luck, which I hope may be the future part of every student of 1965-66, will be accepted as more than an ordinary "wish-you-well" formality. If so, I shall be glad. For that is what I want to say as I write in everyone's Cardinal--------- May we keep our high school friends throughout the year; may each of us have increasing satisfaction because of good work done, and may the future bring to all of us more and more of the real joy of living.

Those Wonderful Years

Freshman year, a brand new school
Country students learned the rule.
Waterguns in every class
Writing themes had come to pass.
Mr. Grebb had a class
Nearly all were gone 'til it was past.
Senior Prom - a deck of cards, theme.
Davis, Superintendent wasn't mean.

Drivers Ed., Sophomore year
Boss's car hit in the rear.
Red and white banner was designed.
Freshman's party was in mind.
Senior Prom - Evening in Paris
Mr. Sevier was on the terrace.

Junior year, pizza party
Everyone there ate hearty.
A game in Wauneta, during Basketball season
Stayed overnight, a blizzard the reason.
Junior play was in November,
Practices that everyone will remember.
And everyone knows what Santa brings,
Among his gifts were our class rings.

Senior year, Homecoming Dance,
Brings to many a new romance.
Slumber parties throughout the year,
Too much to eat, not a big enough mirror.
Christmas Prom, Senior play
Sneak trip and Graduation Day.
Many ways to make us cheer---
Seniors are the BEST any year.

Double, Double Toil and Trouble; Fire Burn and Caldron Bubble

Two terrible witches were busily preparing their devilish brew one dark, windy Halloween night in the year 2000. In thinking back on the small town of Hayes Center, the town they used to haunt, the seniors of 1966 came to their mind. To bring back old memories, they both decided to visit the poor helpless class of "66". The brew was bubbling wilder than ever now, and the clock was tolling the witching hour. On their brooms they quickly flew, and were to the moon in no time. It wasn't long until the first class member came into view. Who could it be but Linda Collins! Yes, she was traveling for the fifth time to South Africa...and was happier than a lark. Not far behind, was Kaye Beard. She was doing very well in her commercial art program, and was now working for the Ponds Purity Hand Cream Commercial Agency. About this time, the fog began to grow thick. The witches were flying very high so as not to hit buildings, church steeples, and the like. In the far distance they could see three faint forms. Upon straining their eyes, they came to the conclusion that these moving forms were Don Potts, Alan Morehead, and Kelly Evans. They peered into the darkness, and were about to fulfill their curiosity as to what these fine gentlemen were doing, when a great gust of wind surged forth and pushed the broom riders beyond visual contact. If the witches were planning to peacefully glide along, their minds were quickly changed as lightning began to pierce the clouds. Most witches have stupendous perception, and always know exactly where they are. They thought they were over the continent of Europe, and sure enough they were. Far away in the distance could be seen three slender stewardesses. They were distinguished, by name, as Dixie Griffiths, Ingrid Palic, and Linda Leffler. All three were boarding huge airplanes for worldwide flights. Crossing the Mediterranean, they found sunny weather. Six of the boys from the 1966 class could be seen down below, fishing, boating, and skiing. To get a closer glimpse of the fun, the witches darted down. They recognized the vacationers as Jim Altman, Con Fielding, Randy Floyd, Doug Karre, Rich Rathbun, and Jack Unger. The witches traveled on, moving in a westerly arc. Over the busy city of New York, they traveled, where the former Linda West was attending to her duties as Mrs. America, while Claudia Bosley was acting as private tutor for her eight children.. Then, up to the State of Maine. Who would have guessed that in this cold State, eight of the class were making their permanent homes. Among the group were: Carolyn Weskamp, bio-chemist, Victoria Schneider, secretary for Barnum and Wilkinson, Clayton Nitsch, veterinarian for the Carter Community, Roland Morehead, carpenter for Homford City, Gaylord Lawson, next door neighbor and auto body repairman for Ron, Lloyd Lapp, diesel mechanic for the northern section of Maine, Dr. Lona Kramer, and Isabelle Kolbet, P.H.D., B.A., and regular M.D. As the journey was getting a bit tiresome, the witches decided to turn on their hidden power motors. Ah! Sailing along once again, over the Great Lakes, up into Canada, they made a wide circle to the south. Here in Wisconsin the witches saw Jerry Livingston, manager of the Karrinel Veterinarian Co., and a former classmate, Peggy La Shell working tediously as secretary for the Brown, Hardth, and Steele Co. Attys. at Law. A hunger pain sharply hit witch No. 1. Since they had been traveling for seven hours, witch No. 2 thought it was time to stock up on more energy. Down through the stars, tumbling over the fleecy clouds, brushing the tops of the trees came the witches; over skyscrapers and houses until they saw the sign--EAT-Gas Eat-Gas flashing on and off. To their surprise, just a moment before landing they saw Gaylord Johnson, University Coach, Jerry Gohl, physical therapist, Dave Gerih, town barber, and Dick Buffington, graduate of Indiana University, munching away on pretzels and beer. This fairly well startled the witches, as they'd never touched a drop in their life---so turning their power up a notch they zoomed straight up 40 miles. After that shaking experience, they decided to travel to the Corn State of Iowa, where they found Dennis Schneider, a famous used car dealer making more money than ever. As they approached the Rocky Mountains their glances fell upon Joyce Beebe, an active teacher in a Boulder High School. Over the Rockies in Nevada they saw Naomi Carr keeping books in a busy casino in Las Vegas. From Nevada, Linda Cox was seen teaching Home Ec. to Spanish children, and as the last part of the tour ended in California, they saw Lynn Cooper had made Hollywood, and was a famous star.

Class of "66" Wills

I, Jim Altman, will my ability to get sick on Friday nights to Wilber.

I, Kaye Beard, will my ability to have FUN and meet "people" on Sneak Trips to Cathy Carter. (Doubt if she'll need it.)

I, Joyce Beebe, will my long blonde hair to Karen S. providing she spends all the long hours combing it that I did.

I, Claudia Bosley, will my bruised knees from cheerleading to Martha Rathbun.

I, Dick Buffington, will my boots to Martha R. so it's not so obvious when she walks.

I, Naomi Carr, will my ability to chew gum in school without getting caught by Mr. Reimann to anyone who can master the technique.

I, Linda Collins, will my ability to be good in second hour study hall to Rosalie S.

I, Lynn Cooper, will my James Bond hero to absolutely no one.

I, Linda Cox, will all the pink slips that teachers have given me back to them.

I, Kelly Evans, will my ability to do most anything to a person in the Junior Class who can't even open a gate.

I, Con Fielding, will my height and basketball ability to Bill Johnson, in hopes that he makes the team.

I, Randy Floyd, will my distinct likeness to James Bond to all the women of H. C. H. S. who just can't resist me.

I, Dave Gerih, will my Great walking posture to anyone who needs improvement, nothing to it, just hold your head up straight. Okay.

I, Jerry Gohl, will my track shoes to Steve Gerih.

I, Dixie Griffiths, will my lost love to anyone who can find it.

I, Gaylord Johnson, will my home (across the street from the high school) to anyone who likes to sleep late.

I, Doug Karre, will my traffic tickets to anyone who needs them.

I, Isabelle Kolbet, will my cafeteria hairnet to Dean Howard, provided he wears it every day.

I, Lona Kramer, will my ability to be late to English class to the Juniors, if they agree to use it frequently.

I, Lloyd Lapp, will my grades to anyone who's dumb enough to take them.

I, Peggy LaShell, will my quiet disposition to Irene Johnson.

I, Gaylord Lawson, will my government grades to anyone dumb enough to take them.

I, Linda Leffler, will my corner locker to anyone who can stay alive crossing the traffic.

I, Jerry Livingston, will my great athletic ability to any underclassman unable to make the team.

I, Alan Morehead, will my study habits to Clint Livingston.

I, Ron Morehead, will my Rambler to Mr. McCoy, (it will be the thing you need, it'll squeal).

I, Linda Nelson, will my ability to go steady with a wonderful guy to anyone smart enough to take it.

I, Clayt Nitsch, will my ability to drive home at 4 o'clock in the morning to Don Buff.

I, Ingrid Palic, will my ability to keep a straight face in Trig, to anyone dumb enough to take Trig.

I, Don Potts, will my basketball ability to next year's first team.

I, Rich Rathbun, will my bent to heck '56 Chevy to the Drivers Ed. Class, if they promise to let me use it on weekends.

I, Dennis Schneider, will nothing to absolutely nobody, I have nothing to spare at the moment.

I, Vicki Schneider, will my ability to be noisy in second hour study hall to Rose W.

I, Jack Unger, will my trumpet playing ability to anyone fool enough to take it. Good Luck.

I, Carolyn Weskamp, will my curly hair to Leona Kolbet.

I, Linda West, will myself to my fiance, Jack Evans, as I will anyway.

We, the Senior Girls, will the boys' mirror back to them, we're through using it.

We, the Senior Boys, will our ability to leave mirrors where they are to the girls, they need it.

We, the Class of 1966, will the traits for the best and largest class ever to enter H. C. H. S. to anyone capable of living up to them.

I, Mr. Reimann, will my promptness on cold mornings to anyone sleeping late.
